CALL FOR REMINISCENCES OF OLD-TIME TEACHERS

What were the schools of Richmond and of Virginia fifty years ago? Who were the teachers half a century back, and what were their methods?

The marvelous educational enterprise of the present suggests such inquiries, and the story of these old-time schools, told by former pupils, would not only be exceedingly interesting, but, in years to come, would be history of untold value,

For this reason The Times-Dispatch throws open the columns of the Educational Page to the boys and girls of fifty years ago, welcoming reminiscences of the grammar and higher grade schools of Virginia and their teachers in that day, suggesting only that the articles be not more than one thousand words in length and that they be personal and reminiscent.

Such communications should be addressed to the Editor of the Educational Department,
